This week we celebrated the 60th day of school! The students have come so far and are learning so many new things! We are working on reading short books and writing sentences during reading. We will be exploring the letter li, Nn, and Bb through the next several weeks. Remember to have your children read their take-home books to you!

During the show of works your students will be performing in the classroom and sharing their "Me" projects. We will have a snack together before we go to the whole school performance.

No School:

December 22nd
through January 5th.
