Date 09/18/09

Dear Families,

Hello again! We survived another week of third grade. Congratulations! Just as a reminder— Students have homework each night. There will always be a math worksheet and their spelling notebook. Students are allowed to choose the way they want to practice their spelling. In the inside of the spelling homework notebook there is a list of choices. The number they choose and the date should be at the top of each page. Also, I will send home a decodable reader once a week. This book has the spelling words in the reading. Students are asked to underline or circle the spelling words as they read.

Please feel free to contact me for any reason, or if you have any questions. Phone: 274-6312, or by e-mail: mmcloughlin@arkcharter.org.

Thank You,

Miss McLoughlin

ELA – Next week we will be reading a fable called What About Me? By Ed Young. We will be working on Summarizing and Sequence. We will also be working with plurals(-s, and -es), subjects and predicates.

Math— we will continue working with place value. We will also be comparing and ordering numbers.

Science/Social Studies- We will continue reviewing our continents and oceans. We will also move on to science where we will look at living and non-living things. We will be creating puzzle pieces of "What is science?"

Writing-We have just completed writing about our hopes and dreams for third grade. You will be able to read these at the Welcome Back Picnic! We will begin writing about ourselves in an autobiography.

Important Dates:

Monday, September 28th—Welcome Back Picnic 5:30pm

October 12th – NO SCHOOL

October 30th – ½ Day
