

Miss Klem's Classroom Times for December 18, 2009

Dear Families,

Winter break is approaching us quickly! We will have a 3 day week next week. On Wednesday, 12-23, we are having an all school Pajama Day, in which students are welcomed to come to school in their pajamas. Students need to wear appropriate pajamas underneath their uniforms and can layer off at school.

Next week we will be doing review of the skills we've been learning in ELA and Math since September. On Wednesday I will be sending home an extra credit packet for your child to do over break. Students who hand it in the week back after break will earn extra points towards their grade in the subject.

On Wednesday the students got a visit from a special dog name Rosey.

Rosey and her "mother" read stories at the Troy Public Library to children. The students had fun listening to a winter story, asking questions about Rosey, and getting to pet Rosey! If you are interested in reading a book to Rosey, you can contact the Troy Public Library at 274-7071.

If you have any questions about next week, your child's test score, or anything else, you can give me a call at 274-6312 or email me at dklem@arkcharter.org.

Have a great weekend!

Miss Klem
