My BFFL

My first sleepover at Yainara's house was so awesome! I was at school when Yainara asked me if I wanted to stay over at her house. I almost fell off my chair because I was so excited. I asked my mother if I could stay over at my new BFF's house. My mom said, "Okay. You can stay over at Yainara's house." I was so excited! I could not wait until that Friday.

It was so fun at Yainara's house! We didn't watch TV for three whole days. We were calling our friends and pranking them. We also took a lot of pictures. On Saturday afternoon we went to Yainara's grandmother's house. I got to know most of Yainara's family members. I only met her mom's side of the family. Yainara's family members are so funny.

On Sunday we went to Yainara's aunt's house. We visited with her aunts, uncles, and others from her family. I saw her cousins too. They made me feel so happy, like I was part of their family. Yainara, her cousins and I played iCarly for hours. It was so fun! Yainara's sister was making us laugh because she was doing funny stuff.

After leaving her aunt's house, we ate dinner. The delicious food made my tummy so full. I had to take a ten minute nap. I was so full that I couldn't get up from the bed. Yainara had to help me get up. It was so hilarious because I fell to the floor. I was laughing like a silly girl.

Doesn't my sleepover at Yainara's house sound like fun? Visiting your friends over the weekend is awesome. I love to visit my friend Yainara because you can talk, take pictures, and do all that stuff that you do with your friends. If your mom says you can't stay over at your friend's house, then ask her if your friend can stay over at your house. Doesn't that sound good?
